Head Coach C.J. Woollum

The victories continue to mount, now 469 and counting, as Christopher Newport head coach C.J. Woollum climbs the ladders of Division III's most successful head coaches.

Starting his 25th season, Woollum ranks 24th among active Division III coaches in winning percentage with a mark of .702. That comes from an overall record of 469-199. Those 469 wins place him tied for 18th among active coaches, but all of the 18 ahead of him have taken more than Woollum's 24 seasons to amass their totals.

When you look at everyone who has ever coached in Division III, Woollum is 24th in winning percentage and tied for 32nd in total victories but, again, only one coach on that list won more than 469 games in 24 years.

But Woollum's career is not just about winning percentages and total victories. It's about winning in all respects.

After guiding the Captains to a 13-14 record in his first season at the helm, CNU posted a 19-11 record in his second year, won its first conference championship and made the first appearance in the NCAA Tournament. There would be many more titles and some outstanding NCAA play in the years to come.

Overall, CNU has played in the NCAA tournament 16 times in the intervening years, reaching the Elite 8 in 2000-01 and the Sweet 16 on four other occasions.

In conference play, the Captains have won 12 titles which led to automatic NCAA bids and finished either first or second 16 times in the last 18 regular seasons.

During that span, Woollum has coached some of the finest players in Division III history, including one who, arguably, might be the best ever. Lamont Strothers was a three-time All-American and still ranks as the third leading scorer in the Division's history, even though his playing career ended in 1991. He was also one of the few Division III players ever selected in the NBA draft, going in the second round in 1991.

All told, he has coached nine All-Americans and 11 players who have gone on to play professionally in just about every corner of the globe.

Much of this has been accomplished while wearing the two hats of basketball coach and Director of Athletics. He took over the latter job in 1987 and has overseen the growth of one of the top Division III athletic programs in the nation.

As examples, CNU has won the USA South President's Cup, for the top overall department performance, for the last 11 years as well as the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame Award for the best overall won-lost record among Virginia Division II and III schools for six of the last 11 years.

CNU teams have made a total of 67 NCAA appearances heading into the 2008-09 year and CNU athletes have been named All-American an astounding 537 times.

In addition, Woollum has directed the construction of some of the finest facilities in Division III, and in many cases, other divisions as well. A new football stadium and indoor athletic center are the show pieces. However, outstanding new facilities have also been built for baseball, softball, field hockey, tennis and lacrosse, all since 2000.

In his earlier years, Woollum even served as CNU golf coach, directing his teams to six NCAA tournaments in 13 years and having at least one individual make the field in 12 of the 13 years. He had four players earn All-American honors. One of those, Scott Scovil, won the individual national title and another, Scott Causby, captured the most prestigious regular season tournament in Division III, the Gordin Collegiate Classic.

Woollum is a native of Alexandria, Va., and a graduate of Kentucky Wesleyan. He also has a Masters from Marshall. He has two daughters, Kristy and Emily.

Coaches Roland Ross and Jon Waters

If there is a basketball player out there who fits the profile of a likely candidate for the Christopher Newport squad, chances are Roland Ross knows all about him.

Ross, who has actually been involved in CNU basketball even longer than head coach C.J. Woollum, has been in the forefront of bringing some of the best talent in Division III history to the CNU campus.

Witness nine different players who earned All-America recognition a total of 13 times. Or 11 players who have gone on to play professionally in just about every corner of the globe - even the NBA. It's something that rarely happens in Division III.

But Ross has made it happen at CNU.

Start with Lamont Strothers, one of the greatest players in Division III history, who is one of the few in that Division to ever wear an NBA uniform, playing for both the Portland Trailblazers and Dallas Mavericks after being selected in the second round of the 1991 NBA draft.

Then there is Ted Berry, still an outstanding player in Europe after completing his CNU career in 1994. And there are many others.

Ross, himself, played at Christopher Newport completing his career in 1980 as a senior averaging 10.2 points.

He eventually joined the staff of then-head coach Glenn Russell for the 1983-84 season, one year before Woollum arrived at CNU.

During his 25 years on the bench CNU has posted a 490-231 record with 16 NCAA appearances and 12 conference titles.

Ross also serves as CNU's Director of Community Outreach. He has organized many student-athlete efforts to improve the life of many in the local community.

Roland Ross

College basketball is a complicated game, and few assistant coaches, or some head coaches, know its ins and outs better than Christopher Newport's Jon Waters.

A CNU grad, who played on what was at that time the school's best team ever, the 1990-91 squad that posted a 24-5 record and reached the NCAA Sweet 16 for the first time, Waters joined head coach C.J. Woollum's staff and has specialized in game strategy.

And those game plans have paid off to the tune of a 346-123 record, a remarkable .738 winning percentage.

Along the way, CNU had played in 12 NCAA tournaments, reaching the Sweet 16 five times and the Elite 8 in 2000-01.

In conference play, the Captains have posted a record of 156-50, a startling .757 percentage and eight championships.

Waters' strength is certainly not limited to game strategy. He is adept at working one-on-one with the players, especially the big men.

During his tenure he helped develop seven All-Americans and some of the top shot blockers in Division III history. Terry Gray, who played from 2000-03, ranks 14th all-time with 300 blocks, while Terry Thomas, a Captain from 1993-96, is 21st at 271. Along with those two is Steve Butler, who played two seasons, from 1996-98, and had 196 blocks. Add the 80 he totaled in his two seasons at the Newport News Apprentice School, and his 276 would rank 19th.

In addition to his basketball duties, Waters serves as CNU's Associate Athletic Director and has overseen the construction of CNU's outstanding new facilities, some of the best in the nation.

Almost any coach would be excited about the prospect of having five of the top six scorers from the previous year returning for his up-coming season. But then throw in the addition of a player who averaged a double-double as a sophomore and blocked 195 shots in his first two seasons, but had to sit out a year ago due to illness, and it has Christopher Newport coach C.J. Woollum anxiously anticipating the 2008-09 season.

Woollum very much wants to erase the memory of the 10-16 season the Captains endured in 2007-08, the first sub-.500 year since 1984-85. A lot of it centered around the fact that rising junior Mark Blasingame, the above-mentioned addition from two years ago, was scratched from the roster just prior to the season with illness. CNU did not have an answer to fill that vacancy. On top of that, there were only four returning players at all from a team that had five important seniors, and it made for a potentially difficult year.

Now, however, experience and a presence in the middle are strengths, rather than weaknesses.

As always, it starts with the point guard position, and CNU looks very deep.

Senior Davon Barton (6-1, 17.9 ppg, 7.2 apg) will put the cap on one of the best careers of any Captain point guard, a position that has produced some of the top players in Christopher Newport history.

He will have to overcome knee surgery for an injury that took place after last season, but seems ready to step in to complete his outstanding career.

"We hope to get a release from the doctors on November 20th," says Woollum, "but he is way ahead of schedule in his rehab. He's been running lots of miles and is in great shape."

Barton already ranks tenth all-time at CNU in scoring (1,270 points) and third in assists (594) and was a first team all-USA South choice a year ago and second team all-region.

Woollum feels as though he also has great depth at the position.

Sophomore Paul Going (5-11, 1.1 ppg), "got a lot of important minutes last year," according to Woollum. "He's a smart, heady player who is like a coach on the floor. The team has a lot of confidence in him."

Fellow sophomore Rocky Patterson (5-10, 1.7 ppg) is another quick, athletic, player who needs to develop more consistency, but could help, while freshman Hector Feliciano-Ayala (5-9) is a strong leader who has an outstanding future at CNU, according to Woollum.

At the wings, CNU can count on three veterans from last year.

Junior Theo Baker (6-3, 9.2 ppg) was an important sixth man as a freshman and a starter last year.

"He's come back a little bigger and stronger and with a lot of confidence," says Woollum who likes the fact the Baker is strong on both ends of the floor.

He'll team with senior Thomas Whinnett (6-6, 14.9 ppg, 7.3 rpg) who was a second team all-USA South selection in 2007-08.

Whinnett was forced to play more inside last year because of CNU's lack of size, and should benefit by the move to the perimeter because of his shooting ability. "He'll create some mismatch problems for our opponents," notes Woollum.

Also back is junior Joshua Russell (6-3, 4.4 ppg), a long-range threat who Woollum says is developing his ability to put the ball on the floor.

Add to those, three freshman Ryan Barbosa (6-2), a tremendous shooter who opponents won't be able to leave open. He'll be an outstanding threat against zones.

Inside, CNU will get a full year from sophomore Mike Green (6-5, 10.0 ppg, 5.7 rpg), who joined the squad after the season began last year and worked his way into the starting lineup within ten games.

"He is active and a relentless rebounder," according to Woollum, and is working on his perimeter shot. "He's tough on both ends of the floor."

At center, it is the return of Mark Blasingame (6-8, 10.6 ppg, 10.2 rpg, 95 blocks) that has Woollum enthused. "It's going to be a great lift for the program to have Mark back," he says. Blasingame can score, rebound and block shots and gives the Captains an outstanding presence under the basket.

Backing up Blasingame and Green will be two talented newcomers.

Brian Herrmann (6-5) could be an outstanding player in the program for years to come according to Woollum. "He's athletic and will play the 3 as well as the 4," he notes.

Loren Farris (6-8) might be the tallest player on the squad, perhaps even a hair bigger than the 6-8 Blasingame. Farris, a freshman, is the son of CNU's first basketball All-American, Carl Farris. He had a fine year last season at Fork Union Military Academy, and as he develops will be another fine addition.

With the returning talent available this season, and four freshmen who all have a chance to contribute, a return to the top of the USA South standings is within range. The Captains even received two of a possible seven first place votes in the pre-season poll of conference coaches.

With all the years of success of Christopher Newport basketball, CNU's opponents have learned never to count out the Captains.

Davon Barton (11) goes around a screen from Thomas Whinnett (33)

The Freeman Center at night

THE 700 CLUB

Christopher Newport's 71-64 victory over Ferrum at the Freeman Center on Feb. 16, 2008 wasn't really anything special, other than in one respect.

The Captains surged from a 27-all tie at halftime behind 25 points from Thomas Whinnett.

The special aspect was that it was the 700th victory in CNU's 42-year basketball history since an 84-72 win over George Mason on Dec. 9, 1967 in Fairfax, Va.

With an all-time record of 702-378 over 41 seasons, a .650 winning percentage, it gives Christopher Newport the 11th best record in the history of Division III basketball and the nearly 500 schools that have participated in the division over the years.

The complete list of the top 30 basketball programs of all time appears on page 45.

WOOLLUM AMONG COACHING ELITE

Coach C.J. Woollum continues to rank among the winningest coaches in Division III.

He has raised his victory total to 469, to rank tied for 18th among active coaches in total victories. All of the 17 ahead of him have coached at least 25 years compared to Woollum's 24.

In terms of all-time Division III records, Woollum's 469 wins rank tied for 32nd and his winning percentage of .702 is 24th.

The lists of top Division III coaches can be found on page 7.

TWO HONORED BY USA SOUTH

CNU had Two players honored by the USA South Athletic Conference on its all-conference team.

Junior Davon Barton was chosen to the all-conference first team after another outstanding season.

Whinnett was the Captains' second leading scorer with a 14.9 mark, led the club with 7.3 rebounds per game and connected from the floor at a .502 rate.

ALL-STATE SELECTIONS

In addition to their all-conference honors, both Barton and Whinnett were also part of the all-Virginia Division II-III team.

Barton was chosen to the state first team and Whinnett was given honorable mention.

It was the 15th time in the last 17 years that Christopher Newport had at least one representative on the all-state squad.

ALL-REGION

In his quest to join the greats in Christopher Newport basketball history, junior Davon Barton added himself to one of the top lists of honors.

Barton was chosen second team all-South Region by d3hoops.com.

The Newport News native thus became the 16th player in Captains' history to earn the honor, but just the eighth to do it as early as his junior year.

CLIMBING THE LISTS

As Davon Barton completed his junior season he had already joined the top ten in a couple of CNU career stats.

His 1270 points put him exactly tenth on the all-time scoring list, while with 594 assists he zoomed to third all-time.

He'll have company on the 2008-09 Captains on the top ten lists.

Rejoining the team will be center Mark Blasingame. In his first two years he blocked 195 shots, to rank sixth in CNU history. That came before sitting out last season with illness.

Barton paced the Captains in scoring with a 17.9 mark and had the top figure in assists with 187, for 7.2 per contest. He also led in steals with 36 and shot a fine .507 from the floor.

Junior Thomas Whinnett was recognized on the all-conference second team after his first year with CNU. He transferred from the College of Southern Maryland.

Dean Dome Practice

Each year, during one of their road trips, CNU coach C.J. Woollum makes it a point to have his team experience the atmosphere of a major university facility by holding one of his team's practices at a Division I site. Two years ago it was the University of North Carolina's Dean Dome, where the Captains worked out prior to their games at Methodist and Greensboro.

USA SOUTH CONFERENCE HISTORY

The USA South Athletic Conference (formerly the Dixie Conference) was formed in 1963 when six schools with similar philosophies of academics and athletics joined as the founding members. These colleges were: Charlotte College (presently UNC Charlotte), College of Charleston (S.C.), Methodist College, Lynchburg College, North Carolina Wesleyan College and St. Andrews Presbyterian College. The basis of the new athletic conference was that participation would be strictly amateur, thus no athletically related financial aid or athletic scholarships would be awarded. This philosophy still exists today.

The conference was originally affiliated with the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), and remained with that affiliation until 1973. At that time the NCAA formed the Division III concept, which allowed membership only for non-athletic scholarship schools. The Dixie Conference joined this new arrangement, and in so doing, it became one of the first conferences to be accepted in Division III. From the beginning of the Division, the Dixie Conference has been a leader in many areas, and has gained an outstanding reputation, regionally and nationally.

The conference sponsored athletic programs for men students only until 1983. The NCAA expanded its sponsorship to include women's programs on the Division III level in that year, and the Dixie Conference followed that lead by also including women's sports. Many of the members' teams have gained excellent recognition in these sports.

Each year the conference not only recognizes the participants for outstanding athletic achievements, but academic achievements are also emphasized. Those student athletes who maintain academic averages of 3.0 or better are named to the All-Academic team. This group annually averages nearly 400 in number.

The conference is presently led by Commissioner Rita Wiggs and President John Hill, of Shenandoah University. Current members include Averett University, Christopher Newport University, Ferrum College, Greensboro College, Methodist College, North Carolina Wesleyan College and Shenandoah University, plus all-women's schools, Mary Baldwin College, Meredith College and Peace College. In addition, Maryville College (Tenn.) is a member for football only.

The conference changed its name to the USA South Athletic Conference effective June 1, 2003.

RETIRED NUMBERS

A total of six player numbers have been retired by the Christopher Newport basketball program to honor some of the greatest players in the school's history.

The tradition at CNU began in 1971 when Andy Waclawski's No. 21 was retired. He was the first four-year player in school history.

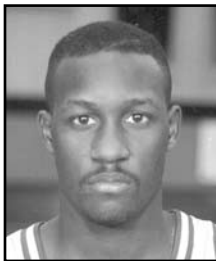

The retired numbers:

| No. | Name             | Career Years |
|-----|------------------|--------------|
| 2   | Antoine Sinclair | 1997-01      |
| 21  | Andy Waclawski   | 1967-71      |
| 23  | Steve Artis      | 1989-93      |

CAPTAINS ON THE INTERNET

In addition to radio, you will be able to catch all the CNU men's basketball action in 2008-09 on the Internet.

For the sixth straight year all basketball games, plus selected contests of most CNU team sports, will be available on "Captains Sports Live" a real-time webcast featuring all the play-by-play you would hear on a radio broadcast, but available world-wide on the Internet.

Just go to the CNU Athletic Web Site at www.cnusports.com for a full schedule of contests and details about how to log on to the webcasts.

It's all a service of the CNU Athletic Department in conjunction with Stretch Internet.

The CNU website at www.cnusports.com has all the information you need about CNU sports on a daily basis.

Home of Champions

Few, if any, Division III schools have had the overall success of the Christopher Newport athletic program.

Through the end of the 2007-08 season, CNU teams had won 12 national championships, either won or shared 162 conference titles and have produced an amazing number of individual accomplishments.

CNU athletes have won All-America recognition an amazing 537 times and have captured 64 individual national championships.

In the USA South Athletic Conference, CNU has won 11 consecutive President's Cups and 15 of the last 24. Statewide, in Virginia, Christopher Newport has had the best win-loss record of any school in the state for six of the last 11 years.

Nationally, CNU teams have made 65 NCAA appearances since 1982, not counting hundreds of individuals in track, cross country and golf.

“Where students come first”

A dramatic transformation spanning the past decade has placed CNU among the United States' preeminent public liberal arts universities. The youngest university in Virginia, CNU is getting better, not bigger.

Our students enroll in rigorous academic programs through the College of Liberal Arts and the Joseph W. Luter, III College of Business and Leadership. CNU offers an unbeatable combination of a personal approach to teaching, small classes, and an emphasis on leadership, civic engagement and honor. In everything we do — both inside and outside the classroom — students remain our No. 1 priority.
